Dear Wendell,

Your Letter arrived and I was very glad to hear from you.

We are still here in England. Not much to report this time. It has grown a good deal warmer since we've arrived and its' early summer. Trees all leaved out, blossoms and flowers every where. Its hard to convey what the lush greenhouse atmosphere of this country is like.

Well, Now in regard to your question concerning the little sheep ranch enterprise. As I've said before you will have to use your own judgement. Just invest as you see fit and report developements to me if you will.

Will have to close now Wendell, because of limited space. Write again soon and, take care of yourself.

Virgil
